ORDER OF PROTECTION.

The best year in the history of the Connecticut grand lodge of the New England Order of Protection was shown by its 224 annual meeting held on Wednesday at Bridgeport and opened with 250 delegates in attendance. The night before a big ball had been given by the United Bridgeport lodges and the entertainment all through was of the best.

Grand Warden F. H. Tolles of Windward presided. Sixty delegates were on hand who had not been taken into the grand lodge. The degrees were conferred upon them and they were seated.

The reports showed that there had been 143 deaths in the fiscal year and that the organization had paid $25,500 in benefits. In the general fund for the state the receipts for the year were $17,417.70 and the expenditures $4,523.39. The balance on hand is $2,894.39, with the treasurer and in savings banks $5,995.12. The gross gain in membership for the year is 1,366 and the net gain 1,300. The total membership in Connecticut is 15,702.

The officers spoke with approval of the practice of the organization to carry no large balances, which, under the laws of Massachusetts is not allowed to carry in its contingent fund a sum greater than the amount of three assessments.

The grand lodge voted to change the grand lodge laws so that Waterbury, with Bridgeport, will be, in its turn, the meeting place of the convention as well as Hartford and New Haven.

Soon after the session opened Grand Secretary Jeremiah Hall received a telegram from New Haven, summoning him there at once to take his place as a member of one of the local militia companies in protecting the city on account of the burning of the jail.

He left by the next train and his work had to be done by a grand secretary pro tem.

The list of grand officers elected has already been published in The Bulletin. The following supreme representatives for the meeting of the supreme lodge in Boston, May 12, were elected:

S. W. Ballatyne, Derby; Thomas J. Coffey, George H. Graham and P. E. Whalen, New Haven; William Dineen, New London; Annie I. Durr, New London; Nora A. Keating, Waterbury; John E. Lyddy, Bridgeport; Elizabeth Martin, Georgetown; John J. Molloy, Ansonia; John F. Paddock, South Norwalk; W. F. Mills, Torrington.

Alternates—George B. Andrews, Emma Brandt, P. J. Carney, Eva J. French, Henry K. Kinsman, George R. Kinsman, New Haven; Julia A. Archer, New London; Alice Eldridge, Torrington; Catherine Kinsman, New London; Louise Penfold, Winsted; Thomas P. Redley, Naugatuck; M. P. Fallon, Hartford; Annie Burrill, Waterbury.

The three Norwich lodges were represented at the grand lodge meeting by the following delegates: Norwich lodge, No. 248, Past Warden E. Percy Armstrong and S. Howard Mead; Thames lodge, No. 324, Junior Past Warden Miss Margaret Rohan, Financial Secretary Mrs. F. L. Farrell and William Smith, Grand Lodge, No. 509, Mrs. Ernest M. Newbury and F. C. Lewis. Supreme Representative M. J. Foley of Thames lodge was also present.

MODERN WOODMEN.

Ionic camp, No. 7694, on Thursday evening met for the first time in its new meeting place, Pythian hall, and had a routing good meeting. Worthy Consul Allen C. Matthews presiding. There was one new member initiated and three applications were received. Particular interest was added to the meeting by talks given by Neighbors George H. Smith and J. H. Smith. The former spoke of his recent trip to Canada and the latter of attending the meeting in Hartford when the state banner for membership gain was presented to the winning camp. The Ionic members found their new meeting hall very convenient and were much pleased with the change.

UNITED WORKMEN.

Norwich lodge, No. 12, had only routine business on Wednesday evening at its regular meeting in Germania hall, but has a candidate for initiation at the next meeting. The lodge has experienced an active season this year, having added almost half a dozen members in the last few months.

Supreme Overseer John Currier Gallagher of New Haven, of the board of directors of the supreme lodge, A. O. U. W. of the United States, and Past Grand Master Workman John C. Trant of Hartford, last Monday night paid an official visit to Columbia lodge, No. 78, of Columbia, the new lodge of the Connecticut A. O. U. W. instituted last year, and received a rousing welcome.

The lodge was out in full force to greet the visitors, and spirited addresses were made by Brothers Gallagher and Trant, the former speaking particularly of the magnificent work the A. O. U. W. had done in its philanthropic work of paying out $170,000,000 in death claims, chiefly to widows and orphans of its members, since its organization, and especially in its leading way—blazing the trail as it were—laying the foundations not only for its own perpetuity as a great fraternal organization, but also for those fraternal organizations that have followed its lead in safe and sound fraternal insurance.

Brother Trant made one of his happy speeches on the stability and the prospects of the order. A fine speech was served at the close of the address and a social hour set was followed. This lodge is arranging for a big celebration of its first anniversary on April 25th, at Columbia lodge. Brother Gallagher says, has a fine hall and is composed of a fine body of young men who are enthusiastic for the order, and that with its growth and influence it promises to be a very important lodge in this section of the state; also that the members of Columbia lodge will go in a body to attend the installation of the new officers of the Williamsburg lodge of Williamsburg next Tuesday night.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

Thames' council, No. 1851, met in stated form on Wednesday evening in Foresters' hall. Regent James J. Casey in the chair, and a good average attendance shown. In addition to usual business, a request from the whist committee indicated a successful evening for the next meeting, when a public whist is to be held in the hall.

The annual grand council meeting is to be held at Hartford next Wednesday, April 20th. Norwich council, No. 724, has elected P. R. John MacDougall representative and P. R. Alexander, London alternate. P. R. George S. Powers is the delegate of Thames council, with P. R. H. G. Gaucher as alternate.

The thirty-third annual grand session of the supreme council is to be held at Montreal beginning May 15th.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

While the coming Knights of Columbus convention is six weeks away, the New Britain committee of arrangements, composed of representatives from the three councils of that city—Carmody, Partridge and New Britain—are working hard and leaving no stone unturned to make the convention a big success. It is the intention of the committee to begin the event with an exemplification of the third degree on Sunday, May 8, for which there will be a class of 75 candidates.

On Monday evening, May 9, there will be a big convention hall in honor of the delegates and visitors, and the hall will be profusely decorated for the occasion.

On Tuesday, May 10, the delegates will convene for business. It is expected there will be over 150 delegates on hand.

Among the matters to be settled by the K. of C. convention will be the adoption of a revised constitution and by-laws. The annual election of officers and the choice of three delegates to the national convention at Quebec in August will occupy a considerable portion of the time of the convention.

At this early date a large number of candidates are in the running for the numerous honors. The names thus far mentioned for the position of state deputy—the highest office to succeed

Capt. James J. Kennedy of New Haven, include Mayor Thomas L. Reilly of Meriden and Attorney William J. McLean of Thompsonville. Mayor Reilly was a state delegate to the Mobile convention last year, receiving the highest number of votes out of a field of ten candidates. Attorney Mulligan is at present district deputy of Hartford county and a graduate of Yale.

Another candidate for the state deputyship of the Knights of Columbus will be John F. Moehan of Ferdinand council of New Britain.

Up to date not much has been said about candidates for the other state offices, but for delegate honors there are already three active candidates in the field—Attorney William F. Delaney of New Britain, Thomas F. Clark of New Haven and Patrick L. Shea of Derby. It is expected that at least a dozen will aspire before long for these three positions. Attorney Delaney is at present district deputy of New Britain and vicinity, was formerly grand chief ranger of the Foresters of Connecticut and is a prominent Elk. Mr. Clark is past grand knight of Elm City council of New Haven and is superintendent of the Yale postoffice. Mr. Shea is past grand knight of Pausanias council of Derby and an alderman of that city.

DEGREE OF POCAHONTAS.

Sehequonash council, No. 11, held its regular meeting Monday evening in Foresters' hall. Pocahontas Ada Lathrop conducting the business meeting, which was well attended and showed much interest in the order.

After the business was over an enjoyable whist evening was held by the Neosha club, a large number taking part. The following were the prize winners: First, Margaret Beckman, 39, silver belt; L. S. Manchester, 44, a Jackknife; second, Miss Bowen, 26, colonial glass dish; Edmund Daily, 45, pocketbook; consolation, Mrs. Ida Clifford and Robert McKiernan. The next of their pleasant whists was announced for the 25th in the hall.

REBEKAHS.

The state assembly of this order is to be held next Wednesday at Hartford, Hope lodge, No. 11, of this city, is to be represented by four delegates.

Past Grand Grace Willey, Hattie Parsons, Minnie Amburn, and Recording Secretary Ada Revel.
